(Protecting children)

March 29, 2012

Dear Sirs:

I find your letter almost funny. I came in on January 25, 2012 at 2:17. At least that is what is on my paperwork.

I made this trip to your office to make sure that everything I did was correct. After I was assured it was correct that's when I turned it in.

The other part of waiting over 2 months to contact me then giving me 2 weeks to respond is down right ridiculous.

It seems if you can not do your job, then why you expect me to do yours.

I now see that spending the extra time and gas to come to your office does not assure that the paperwork is correct even though your personnel said it was.

One more example of public servants having a hard time doing what they are paid for.

Sincerely yours

Louis J. Menduni Jr.

Please find the form that your office sent me has been signed.
